APPENDIX A – PROVINCIAL EMERGENCY ORDERS	60

I. Introduction

In emergency situations, both provincial and federal law grants each level of government with extraordinary powers. Originally designed to deal with war and insurrection, these regimes have evolved to be responsive to a wide range of crises, including pandemics like COVID-19.

Currently, several provinces, including Ontario, have invoked their emergency powers. The Federal government has indicated that, while it is assessing the need to invoke federal emergency powers, it does not have a present intention to do so.

The purpose of this memo is to provide an overview of the scope and limits of provincial and federal emergency powers, and, in the case of Ontario, set out how the powers have been invoked so far.

II. Provincial Emergency Powers

Ontario's framework for dealing with serious emergencies is the Emergency Management and Civil Protection Act [EMCPA].¹ The statute contains a number of provisions related to emergency planning. However, the statute's most significant provisions relate to declarations of states of emergency, and emergency powers that may be exercised during a declared emergency.

Declaring Emergencies

Cabinet or, in particularly urgent circumstances, the Premier, may declare an emergency throughout Ontario, or in any part of the province.² Before doing so, Cabinet or the Premier must be satisfied that an emergency – defined as a danger of major proportions that could result in serious harm to persons or substantial damage to property – exists and requires immediate action to reduce or mitigate it.³ Further, they must be satisfied that at least one of three circumstances exist:

1. The resources normally available to the government – including existing legislation – cannot be relied upon without the risk of serious delay;
2. The resources normally available to the government may be insufficiently effective to address the emergency; or
3. It is not possible, without the risk of undue delay, to ascertain whether the resources normally available to government can be relied upon.⁴

⁴ EMCPA, s. 7.0.1(3)2.

On March 17, 2020, at 7:30 am, an emergency was declared throughout the entirety of Ontario related to COVID-19.⁵ Originally set to expire on March 31st, it was extended by cabinet order to April 14, 2020.⁶ On April 14, 2020, the Legislature extended the emergency for an additional 28 days, to May 12, 2020. On May 12th, the emergency was extended for 21 days to June 2nd.⁷ On June 2nd, the emergency was extended 28 days to June 30th.⁸

Powers of the Premier

During a declared emergency, the Premier gains a number of specific powers, which he may delegate to a Cabinet minister, or to the Commissioner of Emergency Management.⁹

The Premier is empowered to exercise any power or perform any duty conferred on a minister of the Crown or any employee of the Crown under any provincial law.¹⁰

The Premier also has the power to exercise broad powers over municipalities that are within the scope of an emergency if he or she considers it necessary. In particular, the Premier may direct and control the administration, facilities and equipment of a municipality, or require any municipality to provide such assistance as the Premier considers necessary to an area outside of the jurisdiction of the municipality.¹¹

When subject to an order or direction of the Premier, a municipality may exercise its municipal powers to comply, even if there is no by-law authorizing them to do so.¹²

To date, we are not aware of the Premier (or any delegate) exercising any of his powers under this provision in respect of the COVID-19 emergency.

Emergency Orders

During a declared emergency, Cabinet is authorized to make emergency orders for the purpose of promoting the public good by protecting health, safety and welfare in a manner that is subject to the Charter of Rights and Freedoms.¹³ The power to make orders may be delegated to an individual Cabinet minister, or to the Commissioner of Emergency Management.¹⁴

¹³ EMCPA, s. 7.0.2(1).

¹⁴ EMCPA, s. 7.0.4(1). As noted below, the duration of orders made by the Commissioner is shorter than for orders made by Cabinet or a minister.

The EMCPA empowers Cabinet to make a wide range of orders.¹⁵ These include:

1. Implementing emergency plans adopted by municipalities, ministries, public bodies, or at the provincial level;
2. Regulating or prohibiting movement to, from or within any area;
3. Evacuating individuals, animals or property, and making arrangements for their adequate care;
4. Establishing facilities for care, welfare, safety or shelter of individuals, including emergency hospitals;
5. Closing any public or private place;
6. Constructing works or appropriating, destroying or removing property;
7. Collecting, transporting, storing, processing or disposing of any waste;
8. Authorizing facilities to operate as necessary, including electrical generation facilities;
9. Using, making available or distributing any goods, services or resources located in Ontario;
10. Procuring goods, services or resources;
11. Fixing or regulating prices of goods, services or resources;
12. Authorizing (but not requiring) persons to render services of a type that the person is reasonably qualified to provide;¹⁶
13. Requiring person to collect, use or disclose information;¹⁷

Beyond these specified types of orders, Cabinet may make an order to take such other actions or measures that Cabinet considers necessary to prevent, respond to or alleviate the effects of the

¹⁵ EMCPA, s. 7.0.2(4).

¹⁶ When an order is made under this paragraph, it may provide for terms and conditions of service for the person(s). Further a person who provides service pursuant to such an order may not be terminated from their employment due to the fact that they provide such service: ss. 7.0.2(5)-(6).

¹⁷ The collection, use or disclosure of information under such an order must be used solely for the purpose of alleviating the effects of the emergency. When the emergency is terminated, any personal information that has been collected, used or disclosed is subject to the any laws related to privacy and confidentiality of personal information. However, such information may be used for research purposes if it is anonymized or if the person to whom it relates provides consent: ss. 7.0.2(7)-(9).

emergency. Such orders must be “consistent” with the power to make the other orders listed above.¹⁸

Orders may be retroactive,¹⁹ and they prevail over any statute, regulation, rule, bylaw or other order or instrument on legislative nature unless the other instrument states that it applies notwithstanding the EMCPA.²⁰

However, an order may not override the Occupational Health and Safety Act, or a regulation made under that Act.²¹

To make an order, Cabinet must be satisfied that the order is necessary and essential in the circumstances to reduce or mitigate serious harm to persons or substantial damage to property. Moreover, Cabinet must be of the opinion that it is reasonable to believe that the order will alleviate the harm or damage, and that the order is a reasonable alternative to other measures that could be taken.²²

Further, orders must only apply to those areas of the province that are necessary, and only for so long as is necessary.²³ Actions that are taken pursuant to an order must be done in a manner that limits their intrusiveness, while at the same time being consistent with the objectives of the order.²⁴

Exemptions to, and Modification of Legislation During Emergencies

The EMCPA provides for a narrow, but powerful ability for Cabinet to override and even re-write existing legislation on a temporary basis without the involvement of the legislature.

The purpose of this power is solely to provide aid to victims of emergencies who need greater services, benefits or compensation than Ontario law provides, or who may be prejudiced by the operation of Ontario law.²⁵

The only laws subject to this power are those that govern compensation (such as fixing amounts, establishing eligibility, restricting how often a benefit may be given or its duration, etc.), establish limitation periods or set out periods of time by which steps in a proceeding must be taken, or requiring fees to be paid in respect of proceedings or the administration of justice.²⁶

Cabinet has the power to issue an order temporarily suspending the provision of such a statute, regulation, rule, by-law or order and, if appropriate, to set out a replacement provision that applies during that temporary period.²⁷ Given the ameliorative purpose of this power, an order may not have the effect of reducing services, benefits or compensation, increase fees, or shorten limitation periods or periods of time in which steps in a proceeding must be taken.²⁸ These suspension orders may be made retroactive.²⁹

Cabinet may only make such an order on the recommendation of the Attorney General of Ontario.³⁰

An order suspending the operation of a law may not exceed 90 days. However, Cabinet has the power to renew (with or without modifications) such order for further 90-day periods.³¹ There is no upper limit to the number of renewals that may be made.³²

As with the emergency order power, suspension orders prevail over any statute (including the Occupational Health and Safety Act), regulation, rule, bylaw or other order or instrument on legislative nature unless the other instrument states that it applies notwithstanding the EMCPA.³³

Duration of Emergencies & Orders

By default, an emergency, and therefore any emergency orders based on the existence of an emergency, lasts 14 days (unless Cabinet terminates it earlier).³⁴ An emergency may also be terminated early if the Legislature passes a resolution disallowing the declaration of emergency.³⁵

The EMCPA also permits emergencies to be extended without any legislative authorization for one additional period of up to 14 days.³⁶ Cabinet invoked this authority on March 30, 2020, to extend the COVID-19 emergency to April 14, 2020.³⁷

Further extensions beyond this 28-day period requires a resolution from of the Legislative Assembly of Ontario. In this regard, on the recommendation of the Premier, the Legislature may consider a resolution to extend an emergency for further periods not exceeding 28 days each.³⁸ There is no maximum number of extensions that the Legislature itself may grant. If there is a pending resolution before the Legislative Assembly for an extension, the emergency is extended until the resolution is actually voted on by the Assembly.³⁹ Currently the Legislative Assembly has extended the state of emergency to June 30, 2020.

Emergency orders are subject to similar rules as the declared emergency itself. Most emergency orders expire by default after 14 days, and may be terminated sooner by Cabinet.⁴⁰ For so long as an emergency has been declared, orders may be extended by further 14 day periods by Cabinet.⁴¹

With respect to the COVID-19 emergency, on March 31, 2020, Cabinet invoked this extension power to renew all emergency orders that were set to expire prior to April 13, 2020 to continue to that date.⁴² Further extension orders were issued on April 9,⁴³ April 10,⁴⁴ April 22,⁴⁵ May 5,⁴⁶ May 15,⁴⁷ May 26,⁴⁸ and May 29.⁴⁹ Most recently, on June 5, 2020, emergency orders were extended to June 19, 2020.⁵⁰

There is no maximum number of extensions to an order that may be made by Cabinet, and the Legislature is not required to approve of extensions. The Legislature's oversight role over orders is exercised by their power to disallow the existence of a state of emergency. If the Legislature passes a resolution disallowing an emergency or an extension of an emergency, any emergency orders that were made under that emergency are also automatically terminated.⁵¹

An emergency order does not automatically expire when the declared emergency expires (as opposed to when an emergency is disallowed by the Legislature). Cabinet has the power to extend existing orders for additional 14-day periods after the expiry of the emergency if it is necessary to do so to deal with the effects of the emergency.⁵²

Enforcement of Orders

It is an offence to fail to comply with an emergency order, or to obstruct any person acting pursuant to such an order. The maximum punishment is one year imprisonment or a fine of up to $100,000 for an individual, $500,000 for a director of a corporation, or $10,000,000 for a corporation itself.⁵³ If the defendant gained a financial benefit from their violation of an emergency order, the Court may increase the maximum fine to match the benefit the defendant received.⁵⁴ A person may not be charged with conduct that violated a retroactive emergency order if the conduct in question occurred prior to the actual date on which the order was made.⁵⁵

The act also empowers the Province to apply to the Superior Court for an order restraining any person from contravening an emergency order. The Court is empowered to make any order to this end.⁵⁶

Reporting Obligations

During the course of an emergency, the Premier (or a Minister the Premier designates) is obligated to regularly report to the public with respect to the emergency.⁵⁷

Within 120 days of the conclusion of an emergency, the Premier must also table a report in the Legislative Assembly that explains the legal basis upon which any emergency orders or orders directed at municipalities were made.⁵⁸ The Assembly is required to consider the report within 5 days of it being tabled.⁵⁹

Liability and Compensation

The EMCPA relieves against any liability for any person for the good faith acts or omissions done under the Act or pursuant to any power or duty under an emergency order. However, neither the Crown, nor municipalities are relieved of liability.⁶⁰

The Act specifically deems that nothing done under the Act or an emergency order constitutes an expropriation or injurious affection, and that there is no right to compensation for any loss, including a taking, or any real or personal property.⁶¹

Provincial Cabinet is, however, permitted to provide compensation for the loss of property resulting from an emergency order, as well as for the cost of providing any assistance that arises under the Act or as a result of the emergency.⁶² While the Act does not say so, a decision of Cabinet not to offer compensation could potentially be subject to judicial review.

Orders Made to Date

To date, Cabinet has issued 41 emergency orders (four since expired) and 3 orders relieving against compliance with Ontario law (one since repealed). Several other orders have been issued to amend or extend the provisions of these orders. While issued at different times, existing orders are currently set to expire at the end of the day on June 19, 2020,⁶³ with the exception of the order dealing with the suspension of limitations periods and other similar rules, which as of June 5, 2020,⁶⁴ were subject to a different system of renewals.

The rules implemented by these orders can be roughly organized into six categories:

- A. Orders requiring the closure of workplaces, spaces, events and activities;
- B. Orders impacting the operation of workplaces and collective agreements;
- C. Orders imposing various price control or economic measures;
- D. Orders authorizing the sharing of health information;
- E. “Other” emergency orders; and
- F. Orders relieving against compliance with legislative provisions.

Links to the various orders issued under the EMCPA are contained at the end of this memo in Appendix A.

A. Orders Requiring Closures of Workplaces, Spaces, Events and Activities

The earliest emergency orders issued by Cabinet in respect of the COVID-19 emergency related to closing various locations and events in an attempt to control the spread of the disease. Over the course of March and into April, these rules became increasingly strict. Late April and May saw progressive loosening of the rules, coupled with more finely tailored regulations.

Most significantly, starting on June 12, Ontario began to take a regional approach to these rules. As part of Ontario’s overall 3 Stage plan to reopen the province, health units in the province have been designated as either Stage 1 or Stage 2. Currently all health units in Ontario are designated as Stage 2, with the exception of the following, which are designated Stage 1:

- Hamilton Health Unit
- Toronto Health Unit
- Durham Regional Health Unit
- Haldiman-Norfolk Health Unit
- Halton Regional Health Unit

- Lambton Health Unit
- Niagara Regional Health Unit
- Peel Regional Health Unit
- Windsor-Essex County Health Unit

The relevance of Stage 1 versus Stage 2 designations are discussed below.

Gatherings & Public Spaces

On March 17, 2020 at 7:30am, the first emergency orders under the COVID-19 emergency were issued. One of them prohibited all organized public events of over 50 people, including communal services within places of worship.⁶⁵ On March 28th, that order was expanded significantly⁶⁶ to prohibit organized public events (including those held in private homes), social gatherings or religious services involving more than 5 persons.⁶⁷

Initially the only exceptions to this prohibition were for a gatherings of members of a single household (no maximum) and funeral services (maximum of 10 persons).⁶⁸ On May 16, 2020, a new exemption was made for religious services, rites or ceremonies in which participants remain inside their own motor vehicles.⁶⁹ Under this exemption, as modified on May 29, 2020,⁷⁰ religious services may occur with any number of participants, so long as the following rules are followed:

- Each person attending the gathering must remain in an enclosed motor vehicle, except to use a washroom or as required for the purposes of health and safety;
- Each motor vehicle must not contain members of more than one household;
- Each motor vehicle must be at least two metres from any other motor vehicle;
- The person or persons conducting the religious service is not required to in a vehicle. However, there may be no more than five such officiants, and each must remain at least two metres away from each other and from those attending;
- Any building that is normally intended for the use of a ceremony that is located where the ceremony is taking place must remain closed to the public, except to allow attendees to use washrooms, to permit an officiant access as reasonably required for the service, or for health and safety purposes;

- Washrooms open to attendees must be cleaned and disinfected frequently; and
- No materials may be changed between occupants of motor vehicles, or between an officiant and occupants of a motor vehicle.⁷¹

On March 27, 2020, an order was made to expand the powers of the government to keep roadways clear.⁷² Ordinarily, only a police officer is permitted to control traffic or close a roadway.⁷³ The emergency order extends this authority to Ministry of Transportation Officers.⁷⁴

The order also expands the powers of police and MTO officials to close roadways and clear them of vehicles. Normally, a roadway can only be closed to traffic in accordance with a specific set of rules set out in regulations to the Highway Traffic Act.⁷⁵ Under the order, when it is not feasible to comply with these rules, a police or MTO officer may close a roadway using any reasonable means that is likely to make it obvious to the travelling public that the road is closed.⁷⁶

The order also grants police and MTO officers broad powers to ensure that vehicles do not remain on a closed road, or when emergency-related reasons requires a road to be cleared of vehicles.⁷⁷ These powers include the ability to designate a place as an emergency parking location, including a business location that is not a dwelling place. Officers may require the operator or owner of any vehicle that is stopped (or likely to become stopped) on a roadway to move to an emergency parking location to keep a roadway clear. Owners or occupiers of places designated as emergency parking locations must permit the parking of any vehicle directed there by an officer and must provide reasonable access to those vehicles by their owners.

On March 30, 2020, all “outdoor recreational amenities” that are intended for use by more than one family were ordered closed.⁷⁸ It was modified to permit the use of community gardens on April 24, 2020,⁷⁹ and again on May 19th to permit the use of off-leash dog areas, picnic sites, benches and shelters in parks, and some outdoor sports amenities.⁸⁰

On June 11, 2020, this order was significantly revised to account for Ontario's regional approach to dealing with COVID, in which different rules applied in different parts of the province.⁸¹

Starting on June 12th, the following facilities, when intended for the use of more than one household, were subject to the following rules under the recreational amenities order:

- All outdoor playgrounds, play structures and equipment, as well as portions of parks and recreational areas containing fitness equipment across the province were closed;⁸²
- All outdoor whirlpools, spas and water slides across the province were closed;⁸³
- In Stage 1 regions, but not Stage 2 regions, pools, splash pads, spray pads and wading pools were also closed;⁸⁴
- All communal facilities intended to be used by persons outdoor sports amenities were closed, except where exempted in the respective Stage 1 and Stage 2 closure orders (discussed below);⁸⁵
- Any person using an allotment garden anywhere in the province must do so in compliance with the advice, recommendations and instructions of public health officials;⁸⁶
- Any person using outdoor sports amenities, off-leash dog areas, or picnic sites, benches or shelters in parks or recreational areas must ensure they remained physically distanced from any other person by at least two metres.⁸⁷ A previous exemption to this rule for members of the same household was removed.⁸⁸

On April 9, 2020, the government issued an order prohibiting recreational camping on public lands.⁸⁹ The orders exempted camping done as an exercise of an Aboriginal or treaty right, or where it was incidental to the operation of an essential business.⁹⁰ On May 29, 2020, an order was issued⁹¹ that had the effect of making the camping prohibition expire on June 1, 2020.⁹²

Closure and Regulation of Businesses

On March 17, 2020 at 7:30am an order was issued closing all facilities providing indoor recreational programs, public libraries, private schools, licensed child care centres, bars and restaurants (except to the extent that they provide takeout and delivery), theatres, and concert venues.⁹³ Between March 23rd and June 11th, child care centres were permitted to operate on a limited basis in order to provide care to children of certain specified types of essential workers..⁹⁴ Expansions to the list of covered workers were made on April 16th⁹⁵ and April 29, 2020.⁹⁶

During the lifetime of this order, other aspects of it were eased as the emergency continued. On March 15, 2020, an order issued permitting libraries to provide curbside pick-up.⁹⁷ On May 29, 2020, an order was issued permitting drive-in movie theatres to operate starting on May 31, 2020, so long as they comply with other rules set out in the non-essential business order (discussed in detail below).⁹⁸

As of June 12, 2020, the March 17th order had expired and was no longer in force.⁹⁹ Establishments previously shut down by this order became subject to rules under other orders, described in more detail below.

On March 24, 2020, an order required all “non-essential” businesses to be closed.¹⁰⁰ Initially permitting 74 types of listed businesses to continue to operate, as of 11:59 pm on April 4, 2020, the list of essential businesses was reduced to 44.¹⁰¹ Small additions were made to the list of businesses that were allowed to operate on April 9th¹⁰² and 16th.¹⁰³ A more extensive set of additions were made on May 1,¹⁰⁴ and on May 7, 2020, the entire structure of the order was significantly revised to permit most retail businesses to re-open as of May 11, 2020.¹⁰⁵ Further sets of businesses were permitted to re-open under orders used on May 14,¹⁰⁶ May 18,¹⁰⁷ May 29,¹⁰⁸ and June 4, 2020.¹⁰⁹

On June 11, 2020, the order was significantly revised to apply only to Stage 1 health units,¹¹⁰ while a new order was brought in to separately regulate Stage 2 health units.¹¹¹

Stage 1 Jurisdictions

The Stage 1 order has three components: a schedule listing essential businesses that are allowed to operate; a schedule setting out rules that essential businesses are required to follow while operating; and a schedule setting out the requirement for all other businesses to shut down, and setting out exceptions to that requirement.

The order contains a list of 69 categories of businesses, services and sectors that are permitted to continue to operate.¹¹² Categories include some types of supply chain, food production and retail, consumer products, consumer services, financial services, telecommunications & IT, maintenance, transportation, manufacturing, construction, resources, energy, community services, sports, research, healthcare, media, education and entertainment. The order also provides that any government, or any person or publicly funded agency or organization that delivers or supports government operations and services (including in the health sector) may continue to operate in Ontario.¹¹³

The details of which types of businesses fall into these categories are complex. For example, retail sales and rental businesses can operate only if they have a public entrance that opens onto a street or exterior sidewalk.¹¹⁴ Readers should refer to the order itself or consult with counsel.

All businesses that continue to operate are required to comply with the advice, recommendations and instructions from public health officials, including with respect to social distancing, cleaning or disinfecting.¹¹⁵ In addition, specific rules apply to particular categories or types of establishments:

- Any retail sale or rental business (other than grocery stores, take-out restaurants, vehicle sales, garden, hardware and safety supply stores, pharmacies, and gas stations) must ensure physical distancing of at least 2 metres of persons inside their businesses at all times. To that end, they are required to use one or more of the following: alternative delivery methods like curbside pickup; operating by appointment; or limiting the number of persons allowed into the business.¹¹⁶
- Those businesses referred to above which have fitting rooms must close them unless they are equipped with solid doors and are disinfected after each use. In addition, adjacent fitting rooms may not be used at the same time;¹¹⁷

- Public libraries may only provide on-line services, delivery, and curb-side pick up or drop off of materials;¹¹⁸
- Both golf courses and marinas may not permit access to clubhouses, restaurants, pools, fitness centres, meeting rooms or other recreational facilities;¹¹⁹
- Seasonal campgrounds may only permit trailers and RVs that are used by individuals who do not have another residence in Canada and are in need of housing during the emergency or who have a full season contract. They must also ensure that campsites are provided with electricity, water service and sewage disposal, and that recreational and shared facilities on the campground and other areas are closed;¹²⁰
- Day camps for children must operate consistently with the government publication COVID-19 Guidance: Summer Day Camps;¹²¹
- Real estate agencies may not host or support any open house;¹²²
- Post-secondary institutions may only provide in-person instruction to students who are enrolled in the institution and who would be eligible to graduate if they complete components of their program that can only be delivered through in-person teaching and instruction;¹²³
- Training facilities for major league sports teams can only operate in accordance with health and safety protocols established by their governing leagues and are subject to restrictions on who can access them;¹²⁴
- Indoor and outdoor sporting facilities must require 2 metre physical distancing, may not be used for playing team sports or other sports or games that are likely to result in a violation of 2 metre physical distancing, and must not permit access to lockers, change rooms, showers or clubhouses (except to provide washroom or first aid access);¹²⁵
- Training facilities for amateur athletes or other professional sports (other than major league training facilities) must comply with rules similar to those applicable to both major league training facilities and recreational facilities, including rules on physical distancing, prohibition against team sport play, closure of locker rooms, and requirements to comply with any league or amateur club rules and policies. Further, spectators are not permitted, other than one accompanying adult for each athlete under the age of 18;¹²⁶

- Horseracing tracks must be closed to spectators;¹²⁷ and
- Drive-in theatres must follow extensive rules including distancing between vehicles, the requirement to remain in cars, prohibitions against members of more than one household to be in the same car, cleaning requirements for washrooms, and the prohibition against food sales.¹²⁸

For businesses that are still not permitted to operate, the person responsible for them may still permit temporary access to the place of business for the purpose of:

- Preparing the place of business for eventual re-opening;
- Performing work at the place of business in order to comply with any applicable law;
- Allowing for inspection, maintenance or repairs to be carried out;
- Allowing for security services to be provided at the place of business;
- Temporarily attending to access materials, goods or supplies that may be necessary for the business to be operated remotely; or
- Temporarily attending to deal with other critical matters relating to the closure of the place of business, if such matters cannot be attended to remotely.¹²⁹

Cannabis retailers are a special case, as they operate under a different emergency order entirely. Initially listed as an essential business, they were removed as part of the April 4th narrowing of the list. After push back, a separate order was issued on April 7, 2020. This order permits licensed cannabis retailers to provide delivery and curbside (but not in-store) pick up services, subject to a number of specific operational rules.¹³⁰ Given the expansion of retail sales operations as of May 11th, most cannabis retail stores can now operate under substantially the same rules as other retail establishments.

Stage 2 Jurisdictions

The Stage 2 order is structured quite differently than the Stage 1 order. The default rule under the Stage 2 order is that businesses may be open and operate, subject only to the following requirements:

- They must comply will all ordinarily applicable laws, including the Occupational Health and Safety Act;¹³¹
- They must operate in accordance with the advice, recommendations or instructions of public health officials;¹³²
- Any places of business that are open to the public must operate the location in such a way as to enable physical distancing of 2 metres between persons, except where persons arrive at the location together;¹³³
- Public washrooms must be cleaned and disinfected as frequently as necessary to maintain a sanitary environment;¹³⁴ and
- Meeting or event space rentals must be limited to no more than 10 persons at one time.¹³⁵ This rule appears not to apply to rentals of space for religious services which are conducted in accordance with the applicable rules under the Organized Public Events, Certain Gatherings order.¹³⁶

Instead, this order sets out specifically which types of businesses are required to close, as well as setting out specific rules for particular categories of businesses that must be complied with in order to operate.¹³⁷

Business that must continue to be closed in Stage 2 jurisdictions are:

- Conference centers and convention centres;¹³⁸
- Private schools;¹³⁹
- Overnight camps;¹⁴⁰
- Non-drive through convert venues, theatres and cinemas;¹⁴¹
- Casinos and charitable gaming halls;¹⁴²
- Amusement parks and waterparks;¹⁴³ and

It make reference to “clause 2(1)(c) of Schedule 1 to Ontario Regulation 52/20”. O.Reg. 52/20 contains no such clause. Schedule 1 is only one section long. Clause 1(1)(c) of the schedule is the rule limiting religious services to 5 persons, except in the case of “drive-in” services under subsection 1(4).

These businesses, along with other businesses that do not comply with the specific rules applicable to them (discussed below) may still be accessed for the same reasons that exist under the Stage 1 order, such as to permit inspections or to prepare them for eventual re-opening.¹⁴⁵

Other specified businesses may only operate within specific parameters or subject to specialized rules. Many of these mirror the rules applicable to businesses under the Stage 1 order, while others are different. Business specific rules include:

- Restaurants and bars must operate via take-out or in outdoor areas that permit physical distancing between patrons. Access to indoor locations is limited to pick up, payment, washroom or to access outdoor areas. Singing and dancing is prohibited;¹⁴⁶
- Libraries may not allow public access to book stacks. Circulating materials must be exchanged via contactless methods. Reservations must be made online or via phone. Access to library buildings must be limited to pick up, drop off, or to access computers, photocopiers or similar services. Returned circulating materials must be disinfected;¹⁴⁷
- Community centres may operate to provide access to outdoor recreational facilities or day camps, pools (all of which must comply with additional rules, set out below) or indoor activities and services (other than non-aquatic sports and recreational fitness). Activities that are likely to bring people closer than 2 metres may not take place. Locker rooms and showers must generally be closed. Equipment provided or rented by the operator must be disinfected between each use;¹⁵⁶
 - Indoor training facilities for CFL, MLB, MLS, NBA or NHL teams may operate if the relevant league has established a health and safety protocol which is followed. Only players on the team and such staff that are strictly necessary may enter, and the facility must be used solely for the purpose of training or conditioning. Provided equipment must be disinfected between uses;¹⁵⁷
 - Indoor sports and recreational facilities may be used by official national or provincial amateur sports organizations, professional sports leagues, or organizations recognized by the Canadian Olympic or Paralympic Committee for the purpose of training athletes for the purposes of competition. Only persons who are members of such organizations or leagues may use the facility, and 2 metres physical distancing must be maintained. B. Orders Impacting Workplace Operations & Collective Agreements

Hospitals and Health Service Providers

An order was made on March 21st and makes wide-ranging changes to how health service providers deal with their employees, overriding both employment legislation and collective agreements.¹⁷²

This order grants health service providers with the power to take, with respect to work deployment and staffing, any reasonably necessary measures to respond to, prevent and alleviate the outbreak of COVID-19 for patients.¹⁷³ The order goes on to provide a non-exhaustive list of specific measures that health service providers may take, notwithstanding any other statute, regulation, order, policy, arrangement or agreement – including collective agreements:

- Identify staffing priorities and develop, modify and implement redeployment plans. Such plans need not comply with collective agreement terms, including lay-off, seniority/service or bumping provisions, and may include:
 - Redeploying staff within different locations in (or between) facilities of the health service provider;¹⁷⁴
 - Redeploying staff to work in COVID-19 assessment centres;¹⁷⁵
 - Changing the assignment of work, including assigning non-bargaining unit employees or contractors to perform bargaining unit work;¹⁷⁶
 - Changing the scheduling of work or shift assignments;¹⁷⁷
 - Deferring or cancelling vacations, absences or other leaves, regardless of whether such vacations, absences or leaves are established by statute, regulation, agreement or otherwise;¹⁷⁸
 - Employing extra part-time or temporary staff or contractors, including for the purposes of performing bargaining unit work;¹⁷⁹
 - Using volunteers to perform work, including to perform bargaining unit work;¹⁸⁰ or

- Providing appropriate training or education as needed to staff and volunteers to achieve the purposes of a redeployment plan.¹⁸¹
- Conduct skills and experience inventories of staff to identify possible alternative roles in priority areas;¹⁸²
- Require and collect information from staff or contractors about their ability to provide services for the health service provider;¹⁸³
- Require the provision of and collect information from staff or contractors about their likely or actual exposure to the Virus, or about any other health conditions that may affect their ability to provide services;¹⁸⁴
- Cancel or postpone services that are not related to responding to, preventing or alleviating the outbreak of the Virus;¹⁸⁵ and
- Suspend, for the duration of the Order, any grievance process with respect to any matter referred to in the Order.¹⁸⁶

On April 24, 2020, the order was amended to give broader re-deployment powers to health service providers specifically to ameliorate the situation in long-term care homes.¹⁸⁷ The order provides that health service providers are permitted to assist long-term care homes, and, without limiting the generality of that power, can conduct assessments with respect to infection control practices, providing clinical supervision, and providing direct support in respect of personal support services, including feeding.¹⁸⁸ In doing so, health service providers are permitted to redeploy their staff to a long-term care home.¹⁸⁹ All of this may be done notwithstanding the terms of a collective agreement, or any applicable laws, regulations or policies.

The order goes on to state that if a health service provider does this, any employees who provide assistance to the long-term care home remain employees of the health service provider, and that certain labour relations consequences such as the ‘sale of a business’ or ‘related employer’ provisions do not arise as a consequence.¹⁹⁰

On May 1, 2020, a further order was issued related to the credentialing of, and assigning privileges to, the medical, dental, midwifery and extended class nursing staff of hospitals.¹⁹¹ The order follows a similar structure as the original hospital staffing order. It grants Boards of

Hospitals, as well as certain senior staff, the power to take, with respect of any of the hospital's credentialing processes, and reasonably necessary measure to respond to, prevent and alleviate to outbreak of COVID-19.¹⁹² The order then authorizes a number of more specific actions, without limiting the generality of the Hospital's more general power. These actions include:

- Identifying medical, dental, midwifery and extended class nursing needs and priorities, and doing any of the following:
 - Appointing a doctor, dentist, midwife or nurse practitioner to any department of the hospital and determine the nature and scope of their privileges;
 - Reappoint, continue to extend the appointment of any such person who is already appointed; and
 - Determine the nature and scope of privileges to anyone already appointed to the hospital's staff;
- Collect information from staff about their availability to provide services for the hospital; and
- Collect information from staff about their likely or actual exposure to COVID, any positive test results, or any other health conditions that may impact their ability to provide services.¹⁹³

These powers may be exercised notwithstanding any statute, regulation, order, policy, by-law, agreement, arrangement, hospital rule or procedure, or existing term of appointment of a doctor, dentist, midwife or nurse practitioner.¹⁹⁴

Long-Term Care Homes

On March 23, 2020 a similar order was issued targeting long-term care homes.¹⁹⁵ As with the hospital order, the long-term care home order directs service providers take any reasonably necessary measures related to staffing to respond to, prevent and alleviate the COVID-19 outbreak.¹⁹⁶ To that end, providers are directed and empowered to develop, modify and implement redeployment plans that may override collective agreement terms. The order was slightly modified on April 14, 2020, to align with the prohibition, discussed below, on working at more than one long-term care home.¹⁹⁷

The non-exhaustive list of things that may be done under such plans are identical to those set out in the hospital order (above), with the following exceptions:

- The power of re-deploying employees is only for the purpose of ensuring that they do not provide services at more than one long-term care home operated by the same provider;¹⁹⁸
- The long-term care home order does not refer to redeploying staff to COVID-19 assessment centres;
- The long-term care home order refers to conducting skills inventories to identify possible alternative roles in “any area” as opposed to “priority areas”, which is the language used in the hospital order;¹⁹⁹ and
- The long-term care home order does not refer to the cancellation or postponement of services unrelated to COVID-19.

On March 27, 2020, a second order was issued at the long-term care home sector authorizing it to engage in a range of practices that would otherwise be unlawful under the Long-Term Care Homes Act, 2007 and its regulations.²⁰⁰ The order authorizes licensed long-term care home operators to take any reasonably necessary measures in accordance with the order to respond to, prevent and alleviate the outbreak of COVID-19 in a long-term care home, so long as they are consistent with ensuring a safe and secure environment for residents.²⁰¹

The order then authorizes operators of long-term care homes to do or refrain from doing things, notwithstanding their normal legislative, regulatory and policy obligations. The order permits the following:

- Other than “critical incident reports” under s. 107 of O.Reg. 79/10, operators are not required to make statutorily required reports to the Director of Long-Term Care Homes;²⁰²
- Numerous documentation requirements do not need to be performed, though incidents and changes of a “significant nature” or which are required to ensure the proper care and safety of a resident must still be documented;²⁰³
- Operators are not required to post any information, except for essential information, such as materials related to COVID-19 from the Ministry of Health and Long-Term Care;²⁰⁴

- Operators do not need to meet the minimum staffing hours for positions imposed by law. Instead, they must only ensure that “all of the care requirements associated with that position are met”,²⁰⁵
- Staffing positions may be filled by anyone who, in the reasonable opinion of an operator, has adequate skills, training and knowledge to perform the duties required of the position.²⁰⁶ In doing so, they are not required to comply with normal staff screening or training requirements, but are still required to adopt measures to ensure resident care and safety.²⁰⁷ While this order does not specifically say that this may be done in violation of collective agreements, it must be read in conjunction with the provision of the March 23rd order that permits the use of part-time, temporary, contract or volunteer staff to do bargaining unit work;²⁰⁸
- Care conferences and patient examinations are not required to occur at the frequency required by law. They are only required to occur “based on the clinical needs of the resident” and “within a reasonable period of time after the resident’s last examination” respectively;²⁰⁹
- Operators may adopt “flexible practices” with respect to the administration of drugs to residents. The term “flexible practices” is not defined by the order but such practices must not provide for someone to administer a drug outside of their scope of practice, or deny a patient any right to self-administer that they may have under the applicable regulations;²¹⁰
- Operators are permitted to use “flexible processes” for admission, transfer and discharge of residents. The requirements to seek consent from residents under the Long-Term Care Homes Act does continue to apply;²¹¹
- The process for seeking the Director’s approval for obtaining licenses and management orders under the Long-Term Care Homes Act no longer needs to be complied with unless the Director specifically requires it.²¹²

On April 14, 2020, the government issued a third order directed at workers in long-term care homes designed to ensure that they do not work at more than one health service-related workplace at a time.²¹³

²¹³ Order Under Subsection 7.0.2(4) of the Act – Limiting Work to a Single Long-Term Care Home, O.Reg. 146/20.

The order applies to any employee of a long-term care home who is also an employee of a retirement home or any other “health service provider” (which includes other long-term care homes, hospitals, community health centres, hospices, family health teams, etc.).²¹⁴ By 5:00 pm on April 17, 2020, these workers must inform each of their health system and retirement home employers that they are subject to the order.²¹⁵

Starting at 12:01 am on April 22, 2020, workers subject to the order are prohibited from working as an employee of more than one health system provider or retirement home. Where their employer operates more than one long-term care home, they may only work at one location.²¹⁶ Employers have a corresponding duty to ensure that workers do not work at other health service providers or retirement homes.²¹⁷ The employee’s obligation under this order overrides any provision of a collective agreement.²¹⁸

The order contains provisions that appear designed to protect long-term care home employees from negative employment consequences. The order states that employees subject to it are also subject to the provision of the EMCPA that protects persons from termination of employment when they provide work pursuant to an emergency order.²¹⁹ The preamble to the order also makes reference to section 50.1 of the Employment Standards Act, 2000, which provides job protected leaves for workers unavailable to work for certain reasons related to designated infectious diseases such as COVID-19.²²⁰

On May 12, 2020, a fourth order was issued related to the management of long-term care homes that have COVID outbreaks.²²¹ Under the order, the Director of Long-Term Care Homes – the government official responsible for regulating the sector – may appoint a person to assume the management of a long-term care home if that home has at least one resident or employee test positive for COVID-19.²²² Normally the Director can only do this if they are of the view that the Home is not complying with its obligations under the Long-Term Care Homes Act, 2007.²²³ The emergency order removes any restrictions to the power of Director to appoint a manager for homes with at least one positive test for COVID.²²⁴

order was similar to the hospital and first long-term care home order, but went further to override a variety of licensing requirements established by law.²²⁵

Municipal drinking water systems are authorized to take measures with respect to work deployment and staffing to respond to operational challenges posed by COVID-19 to the extent that the measures are necessary to ensure the provision of safe drinking water.²²⁶ Municipalities are authorized to take similar measures where necessary to ensure a sewage works is properly operated.²²⁷

As with hospitals and long-term care homes, water and sewage systems are authorized to take a variety of specific actions, notwithstanding the terms of a collective agreement, or a statute, regulation, policy or arrangement.²²⁸ The non-exhaustive list of things that may be done under such plans are identical to those set out in the long-term care order (above), with the following exceptions:

- As with the hospital order, the water and sewage order refers to skills inventories to identify possible alternative rules in “priority areas”, not “any area” as is the case for long-term care homes;²²⁹ and
- Operators are authorized to provide supports and services to staff and contractors to enable them to continue to carry out their duties to operate drinking water systems and sewage works.²³⁰

With respect to drinking water systems, the order overrides a number of provisions of the *Safe Drinking Water Act, 2002*²³¹ and its associated Certification of Drinking Water System Operators and Water Quality Analysis regulation²³² related to training, licensing and approval of system operators, overall responsible operators, and supervisors. Under the order, a system may be operated by professional engineers, certain former certificate holders, or certain workers in job classification who have a minimum of 5 years’ experience working on a particular subsystem.²³³ The order also provides that existing certifications set to expire while the order is in effect are automatically extended.²³⁴ Finally, the order permits required testing to be done by persons not normally authorized to conduct such testing, so long as they receive training to do so, work under the supervision of a certified operator and advises them of all test results.²³⁵

The order contains a substantially similar set of exceptions to rules established under the *Ontario Water Resources Act*²³⁶ and the Licensing of Sewage Works Operators regulation,²³⁷ with respect to who may operate a wastewater treatment facility or a wastewater collection facility and the automatic extension of expiring certificates.²³⁸ It does not contain parallel rules with respect that loosen the rules respecting who may conduct certain kinds of tests.

Traffic Management

The March 27, 2020 order respecting traffic management also contains provisions that authorize actions contrary to collective agreements. The Ministry of Transportation is authorized to assign MTO officers to perform duties related to any provision of the order notwithstanding the provisions of a collective agreement.²³⁹

Boards of Health

On April 1, 2020, an emergency order was issued dealing with work deployment measures for Boards of Health in Ontario.²⁴⁰ It is substantially similar to the hospital and long-term care home orders, particularly in its direction to permit Boards of Health to take any reasonably necessary measures related to work deployment and staffing to respond to, prevent and alleviate COVID-19.²⁴¹

As with the hospital and the first long-term care orders, the boards of health order contains a non-exhaustive list of specific measures that may be taken, notwithstanding the terms of any law, regulation, or collective agreement.²⁴² Its terms are essentially identical to those in the hospital and long-term care orders, including the ability to use non-bargaining unit workers and volunteers to do bargaining unit work,²⁴³ cancelling vacations and leaves and changing shift assignments,²⁴⁴ and re-deploying workers to different job sites.²⁴⁵ Boards may suspend the operation of the grievance procedure with respect to matters under the order.²⁴⁶

The order does not make reference to re-deploying workers to COVID assessment centres as the hospital order does. The order's language on conducting skills and experience inventories of workers uses hospital order's language of "priority areas" rather than the long-term care home's language of "any area".²⁴⁷ Other differences in the structure of the order appear to reflect an

Retirement Homes

On April 2, 2020, an emergency order was issued dealing with work deployment measures in retirement homes.²⁴⁹ While sharing many similarities with the hospital, boards of health and the first long-term care homes orders, the retirement homes order has several additional features not found in those orders.

As with the other orders, operators of retirement homes are directed to take any reasonably necessary measures related to work deployment and staffing to respond to, prevent and alleviate COVID-19.²⁵⁰ They are given the same non-exhaustive list of steps that they make take, notwithstanding collective agreement terms.²⁵¹ This includes conducting skills and experience inventories to identify alternative roles for staff in “priority areas”.²⁵²

In addition, retirement homes are exempted from the following requirements:

- Conducting screening and criminal record checks of potential new staff and volunteers under s. 64 of the Retirement Homes Act, 2010;²⁵³
- Reporting an outbreak of COVID-19 in their facility to the Retirement Homes Authority. This is replaced by an obligation to report such an outbreak to the local medical officer of health;²⁵⁴
- Conducting interdisciplinary care conferences that are not related to responding to, preventing or alleviating the outbreak of COVID-19;²⁵⁵ and
- The obligation to document or post new information, except for documenting incidents of a serious nature or where necessary to ensure proper care and safety of residents.²⁵⁶

The order goes on to provide that, notwithstanding anything that it may contain, retirement homes are required to comply with any applicable guidance given by the Chief Medical Officer of Health, or directives issued under the Health Protection and Promotion Act, and that nothing in the order derogates from the responsibility to ensure a safe and secure environment for residents.²⁵⁷

A second order impacting retirement homes was issued on April 9, 2020, which relates to agreements with hospitals for the provision of temporary accommodation and care for current or discharged patients.²⁵⁸ The purpose of the order is to avoid certain labour relations consequences that might otherwise flow from agreements whereby retirement homes are used as facilities to care for patients in order to alleviate hospital overcrowding. Under the order, such an agreement would not:

- Impact whether the hospital or the retirement home constituted a “hospital” for the purposes of the Hospital Labour Disputes Arbitration Act;²⁵⁹
- Impact whether the hospital and the retirement home constituted a single employer for the purposes of s. 1(4) of the Labour Relation Act, 1995;²⁶⁰ or
- Impact whether the hospital or the retirement home has sold part of their business for the purposes of s. 69 of the Labour Relations Act, 1995.²⁶¹

The order makes clear that it is only the entering into such an arrangement that does not cause these labour relations consequences. For example, a retirement home that was already a “hospital” for the purposes of HLDA remains a hospital, and could become a hospital for reasons unrelated to entering into the kind of arrangement described in the order.²⁶²

A third order targeting retirement homes was issued on April 16, 2020, which prohibits employees in this sector from working for more than one retirement home or for other health service providers.²⁶³ The rules that are imposed by the order are similar to those that were implemented in the Long-Term Care Home sector in April 14th. All retirement home employees are required to inform their employer of any other retirement home or health service provider that they are employed by, and must do so by 9am on April 20, 2020.²⁶⁴ Starting at 12:01am on April 22, 2020, retirement home workers may not also perform work at another retirement home (whether or not operated by the same employer) or a health service provider (hospitals, long-term care homes, etc.).²⁶⁵

As with the long-term care homes order, this order provides that the employee must comply with the order notwithstanding the terms of a collective agreement.²⁶⁶ The order also contains the same type of language that appears to protect retirement home workers from being terminated from employment for complying with the order.²⁶⁷

In the event of a conflict between this order, and the first retirement home order dealing with deployment and staffing, this order prevails.²⁶⁸ This means that a retirement home operator's power to implement deployment plans would not, for example, allow them to re-deploy a worker to work at two different sites.

On May 29th, a new emergency order was issued related to the management of retirement homes in a state of COVID outbreak.²⁶⁹ It is similar, but not identical, to the management order that was earlier issued with respect to long-term care homes in COVID outbreak.²⁷⁰ Under the order, the Registrar of Retirement Homes – the government official responsible for regulating the sector – may appoint a person to assume the management of a retirement home if two conditions are met: First, that home has at least one resident or employee test positive for COVID-19; and second, where there is a risk of harm to residents in the home related to COVID-19.²⁷¹ Normally the Registrar can only do this if they are of the view that the Home is not complying with its obligations under the Retirement Homes Act, 2010 and that, without assistance, the operator cannot or will not properly manage the operations of the home.²⁷² The emergency order removes any restrictions to the power of Registrar to appoint a manager for homes with at least one positive test for COVID and a corresponding risk of harm for residents.²⁷³ The order may only last for a fixed period of time.²⁷⁴

Service Agencies for Developmentally Disabled Adults

On April 3, 2020, a similar order was issued for service agencies as defined in the Services and Supports to Promote the Social Inclusion of Persons with Developmental Disabilities Act, 2018.²⁷⁵ These service providers are directed to reasonably necessary measures related to deployment and staffing to respond to COVID-19, including the same list of specific measures that it may take notwithstanding relevant collective agreement provisions.²⁷⁶ The order uses the “any area” language contained in the long-term care home order in its provision respecting skills inventories.²⁷⁷ On April 24, 2020, these provisions of the order were extended to organizations providing intervenor services to persons who are deafblind and who receive transfer payments from the Ministry of Children, Community and Social Services.²⁷⁸

As with the retirement homes order, this order grants service providers for developmentally disabled adults with extensive exemptions to ordinary statutory obligations, while maintaining a general duty to ensure a safe and security environment for persons with a developmental disability.²⁷⁹ Specifically, service providers:

- Are not required to make reports to the Ministry of Children, Community and Social Services other than serious occurrence reports;²⁸⁰
- Are largely exempted from documentarian requirements where it is not necessary to ensure the safety, security and well-being of persons receiving services and supports. A list of documenting that remains mandatory is set out;²⁸¹
- Are not required to conduct a review of behavior support plans of individuals with challenging behavior, unless there are significant changes related to the use of intrusive behavior intervention strategies;²⁸²
- May adjust staffing levels and other measures to address safety, security and wellbeing of service recipients when providers are not able to maintain support staff at the level identified in the person's individual support plan;²⁸³
- May defer criminal background checks for new staff and volunteers, provided they adopt appropriate measures to ensure the safety of persons with developmental disabilities;²⁸⁴
- Are relieved of most of the requirements to provide orientation training to members of their board of directors and to persons with developmental disabilities;²⁸⁵
- Are relieved of most of the specific training and orientation requirements for staff members. Staff must still be sufficiently trained to meet the specific needs of the individual(s) they work with. Physical restraints may only be used by staff who meet the training requirements set out in the relevant regulations;²⁸⁶

- May defer refresher and re-certification training for staff, including theory and practice of physical restraint holds;²⁸⁷ and
- Are not required to meet the specific regulatory standards for alternate residential arrangements, but must still adopt measures to ensure the health and safety of persons receiving service.²⁸⁸

On April 24, 2020, a new order was issued impacting a sub-set of these service agencies, restricting the ability of staff to work at more than one facility.²⁸⁹ The order applies to service agencies who receive provincial transfer payments, and either (1) provide residential services and supports in group living residences or intensive support residences; or (2) provide specialized residential accommodation pursuant to an agreement with the Ministry of Children, Community and Social Services²⁹⁰

Under the order, any employee of a covered service agency who also performs work in a residence operated by a different services agency must inform their employers of this fact by April 27, 2020 by 9am.²⁹¹ Starting at 12:01am on April 30, 2020, workers may not work in residential facilities operated by two different service providers.²⁹² If there is a COVID-19 outbreak in a residence, as determined by public health officials, the service provider must ensure that any staff only be scheduled to work at that residence until the outbreak is over.²⁹³

As with the Long-Term Care Home and Retirement Home facility orders prohibiting work at more with more than one employer, this order contains language designed to ensure that workers do not lose their jobs permanently as a result of complying with the order.²⁹⁴

Police Services

On April 8, 2020, an emergency order was issued relieving against some rules related to use of force and firearms training for police officers.²⁹⁵ Under the Equipment and Use of Force regulation under the Police Services Act, police officers are required to complete training courses on use of force and firearms before they may use of force or carry a firearm, respectively.²⁹⁶ Normally police officers are required to re-take these courses periodically.²⁹⁷ The emergency order permits chiefs of police to authorize officers to perform duties that may involve the use of force or carrying a firearm so long as the officer had taken the relevant courses within the

Residential and Crisis Line Service Agencies for Victims of Violence Against Women

On April 14, 2020, the government issued an order related to staffing and deployment for agencies that provide residential and crisis line services under Ontario's Violence Against Women Support Services program or the Anti-Human Trafficking Community Supports program.²⁹⁹ This order is broadly similar to other staffing and deployment orders issued under the EMCPA. However, whereas other orders require their subject (hospitals, long-term care homes, etc.) to take all reasonably necessary measures related to staffing and deployment to respond to and alleviate the outbreak of COVID-19, this order only authorizes such measures.³⁰⁰

That said, in practice this may make relatively little difference. Under this order service agencies are authorized to take the same kinds of actions notwithstanding collective agreement provisions as are authorized under the other emergency orders discussed above.³⁰¹

On April 24, 2020, a new order was issued, restricting the ability of staff to work at more than one location.³⁰² The order applies only to residential or emergency residential services.³⁰³

Under the order, any employee of a covered service agency who also performs work in a residence operated by a different services agency must inform their employers of this fact by April 27, 2020 by 9am.³⁰⁴ Starting at 12:01am on April 30, 2020, workers may not work in residential facilities operated by two different service providers.³⁰⁵ If there is a COVID-19 outbreak in a residence, as determined by public health officials, the service provider must ensure that any staff only be scheduled to work at that residence until the outbreak is over.³⁰⁶

District Social Services Administration Boards

On April 16, 2020, the government issued an order related to staffing and deployment for district social services administration boards.³⁰⁸ These are entities responsible for delivering various types of social services (e.g. Ontario Works, ODSP, in-home care services for certain children, etc.) in larger, less densely populated regions of the Province.³⁰⁹

Under this order, employers are permitted to take the same kinds of actions discussed above with respect to other sectors, including overriding terms of a collective agreement and suspending grievances related to staffing and re-deployment.³¹⁰ However, they may only exercise these powers with respect to reducing or mitigating the impact of COVID-19 on a Board's "critical services", which are limited to the operation of homeless shelters and services for homeless persons; Ontario Works assistance; and child care programs.³¹¹

Also, unlike previous orders that authorized employers to override terms of collective agreements, this order requires employers to give impacted unions 24-hours before the employer may implement a redeployment plan under the order.³¹²

Community Service Providers

On April 16, 2020, an order was issued by the government increasing the flexibility Local Health Integration Networks (LHIN) have to contract for, and fund health care and other social services.³¹³ The scope of this order is far narrower than the orders made in other sectors, and appears to target a different set of concerns.

Currently, LHINs will contract with organizations to provide a number of services, including home making, personal support and other professional services under the Home Care and Community Services Act, 1994.³¹⁴ Under this order, a LHIN is authorized to request that such organizations provide other health care and related social services in settings identified by the LHIN and to fund those services.³¹⁵ It may make such a request notwithstanding any statute, regulation, policy, arrangement or agreement. A service provider is also authorized to accept such a request and to deploy its employees to provide such services, notwithstanding any statute or regulation that would provide otherwise.³¹⁶

However, the regulation also provides that a employee of a service provider is not required to agree to provide the services requested by a LHIN,³¹⁷ and the order does not authorize a service provider to override any collective agreement provisions.

Municipalities

On April 16, 2020, Cabinet issued an emergency order granting broad powers to municipalities to override collective agreement provisions and deploy workers.³¹⁸ It mirrors aspects of several of the other sectoral orders discussed above, and also includes its own novel provisions.

The order only applies to municipalities that have declared an emergency under their own authority under the EMCPA.³¹⁹ Further, it does not apply to certain categories of municipal workers. In some cases, this is because these workers are already the subject of another sectoral order, such as workers regularly employed in drinking water systems, wastewater collection facilities, wastewater treatment facilities, long-term care homes or boards of health.³²⁰

However, the order also does not apply to persons normally employed as firefighters or ambulance services operators,³²¹ even though these sectors do not have any emergency order governing them.³²²

For those municipalities who have declared a state of emergency, they are authorized to take, with respect to work deployment and staffing, any reasonably necessary measure to respond to, prevent and alleviate the outbreak of COVID-19 so as to prevent, reduce or mitigate the effect of COVID on “critical municipal services” that are delivered by the municipality’s employees.³²³

Critical municipal services are:

- The maintenance of municipal long-term care homes;
- The delivery of public health services;
- The operation of homeless shelters and the provision of services to homeless persons;
- The provision of drinking water;
- Waste management and sanitation;

³²⁰ O.Reg 157/20, Sched. 1, ss. 2(3)-(5).

³²¹ O.Reg 157/20, Sched. 1, ss. 2(1)-(2).

³²² However, a regulation made under the Ambulance Act was also enacted on April 16, 2020, significantly loosening the rules respecting who may work as an ambulance worker: see O.Reg. 159/20, amending General, O.Reg. 257/00.

³²³ O.Reg 157/20, Sched. 1, s. 3(1).

- Wastewater management;
- Public transportation services;
- The provision of Ontario Works benefits administered by the municipality;
- The administration, operation and funding of child care programs and services;
- The enforcement of by-laws; and
- Services related to the implementation of the municipality's emergency plan.³²⁴

Notably, this list includes the three services whose workers are excluded from the scope of this order, but who are covered by other orders (i.e. water/wastewater, long-term care homes and public health). These orders therefore must be read together. They grant municipalities broad powers related to staff and redeployment across, and in between, all of these service sectors.

As with other sectoral orders, the municipalities order goes on to provide a list of more powers that a municipality has in addition to this general power to take reasonably necessary measures.

As with other orders, municipalities are granted the power to develop redeployment plans notwithstanding any provision of a collective agreement.³²⁵ Such a plan may provide for redeploying staff between different locations, changing assignments of work, having non-bargaining unit members do bargaining unit work, changing schedules or shift assignment, deferring or cancelling leaves or vacations, employing extra part time, temporary, contract or volunteer staff (including to do bargaining unit work), and providing training to staff to permit them to do work in accordance with the plan.³²⁶ Before implementing such a plan, a municipality must give at least 24 hours' notice to every bargaining agent that represents an affected employee.³²⁷

Municipalities also have the power to conduct skills inventories, collect certain kinds of information from workers related to availability to work and health status.³²⁸ They are also authorized to cancel or postpone services that are not related to responding to COVID-19 or that are not deemed to be critical under the municipality's emergency plan.³²⁹

Finally, municipalities are permitted, for the duration of the order, to suspend any grievance process with respect to any matter referred to in the order.³³⁰

Mental Health and Addiction Agencies

On April 22, 2020, the government issued an order directed at not-for-profit providers of community mental health and addiction services who receive funding from the Ministry of Health or from a Local Health Integration Network.³³¹

The order mirrors the provisions of most of the other sectoral workplace orders, including the list of specific measures that employers may take without regard to collective agreement provisions, and the power to suspend the grievance process during the duration of the COVID-19 emergency.

However, the order differs from other sectoral orders in one potentially significant way. The order's general grant of authority, like the other sectoral orders, permits operators of community addictions and mental health facilities to "take, with respect to work deployment and staffing, any reasonably necessary measure to respond to, prevent and alleviate the outbreak" of COVID-19. However, unlike other orders to date, this order goes on to say that this general power may also be used "to respond to the consequences arising from the Virus."³³²

It may be that this new language simply reflects a new drafting style for these orders, however it could also be seen to broaden the scope of the employer's power to take exceptional staffing and deployment measures. The provincial government has expressed concerns about the mental health consequences of the COVID-19 pandemic,³³³ and so the intention of this order to grant employers in the mental health and addiction services sector greater flexibility to deal with increased demand for their services flowing from the current emergency.

Intervenor Sector for Persons who are Deafblind

On April 24, 2020, an order was issued with respect to transfer payment recipients funded by the Ministry of Children, Community and Social services that provide intervenor services for person who are deafblind in a residential setting.³³⁴

Under the order, any employee of such an agency who also performs work in a residence operated by a different agency must inform their employers of this fact by April 27, 2020 by 9am.³³⁵ Starting at 12:01am on April 30, 2020, workers may not work in residential facilities operated by two different service providers.³³⁶ If there is a COVID-19 outbreak in a residence, as determined by public health officials, the service provider must ensure that any staff only be scheduled to work at that residence until the outbreak is over.³³⁷

As with the Long-Term Care Home and Retirement Home facility orders prohibiting work at more with more than one employer, this order contains language designed to ensure that workers do not lose their jobs permanently as a result of complying with the order.³³⁸

Education Sector

On May 8, 2020, a significant order was issued authorizing the deployment of education sector workers to assist in non-clinical activities in congregate care settings such as long-term care and retirement homes, supportive housing, shelters for victims of domestic violence, hospitals and homeless shelters.³³⁹ The order reflects aspects of a number of earlier sectoral orders, as well as several unique features of its own, such as the requirement for unions to enter into agreements with employers before certain steps can be taken.

The order authorizes school boards in Ontario to take any reasonably necessary measures related to work deployment and staffing to support the operations of congregate care settings in their non-clinical response to COVID-19.³⁴⁰ Without limiting the generality of this power, the order grants boards a list of specific powers, much like the enumerated lists applicable to other sectors:

- Implement re-deployment plans that allow for
 - Re-deployment of board staff within different locations or in between different congregate care settings;
 - Redeploying staff to provide assistance in congregate care settings;
 - Redeploying staff to work in a COVID-19 assessment centre;
 - Changing the assignment of work, including assigning non-bargaining unit employees or contractors to perform bargaining unit work.
 - Changing schedules or shift assignments;
 - Deferring or cancelling vacations, absences or other leaves;
 - Providing training or education to staff in order to achieve the purpose of a re-deployment plan;
- Conduct skills and experience inventories to identify possible roles for staff in priority areas;

³³⁸ O.Reg 177/20, para. 3 & Sched. 1, s. 5(a).

³³⁹ Order Under Subsection 7.0.2(4) of the Act – Education Sector, O.Reg. 205/20.

³⁴⁰ O.Reg 205/20, Sched. 1, s. 3.

- Require and collect information from staff or contractors about their availability to provide services;
- Require staff to provide information about their actual or likely exposure to COVID-19, or about any other health condition that may affect their ability to provide services; and
- Cancel or postpone services that are not related to responding to, preventing or alleviating the COVID outbreak.³⁴¹

The order also contains provisions that indicate that school board staff who are redeployed to congregate care settings remain employees of the school board, and that the board and the congregate care provider do not become a related employer for the purposes of the Labour Relations Act.³⁴²

This order departs from several of the other sectoral orders in the role that unions play, and the more limited authority to override collective agreements. The order does contain a clause authorizing the measures discussed above to be taken notwithstanding any provision of a collective agreement.³⁴³ However, it also states that this can only occur if the relevant union and the Board have entered into an agreement with respect to the redeployment of employees to congregate care settings.³⁴⁴ In other words, the order authorizes collective agreements to be violated, but only in accordance with a specific agreement entered into between the Board and the relevant union(s).

However, the order also provides that a Board need only be “substantially compliant” with such an agreement with respect to their conduct “taken as a whole”.³⁴⁵ This means that minor violations of an agreement may be allowed, even if they violate the terms of a collective agreement.

Moreover, the order also contains a clause permitting Boards to suspend the grievance process with respect to any matter referred to in the order.³⁴⁶ This means that, while overall the order involves the union far more actively in redeployment matters, there remain some circumstances in which a dispute between a union and a school board might arise and yet not be subject to a full grievance process. Examples might include where the Board claims a measure taken under the order does not violate the collective agreement in the first place (and therefore would not require an implementing agreement with a union in the first place) or where there is a dispute as to whether a measure that may not be in strict compliance with an implementing agreement is nevertheless “substantially compliant” with it.

Workers in Receipt of Temporary Pandemic Pay

In late April, the government announced that it would provide for a temporary increase to hourly wages of certain workers in recognition of their front-line work and associated risk of exposure to COVID-19.³⁴⁷ On May 29, 2020 the program's rules were formalized.³⁴⁸ Eligible workers working in eligible workplaces would receive a temporary increase in wages of $4/hour on top of their regular wages. Workers who work over 100 hours per month would also be eligible for an additional monthly lump sum payment of $250.

On the same day that the government's list of eligible workers was released, it also issued an emergency order designed to exclude the temporary pay increase from the ordinary collective bargaining process.³⁴⁹ The order provides that the provision of temporary pandemic pay does not require employers to enter into any agreements with relevant unions or bargaining agents, and prohibits any complaints under the Labour Relations Act, 1995 or the Crown Employees Collective Bargaining Act, 1993 from being filed in respect of the payment of temporary pandemic pay.³⁵⁰ The order also bars employers, tribunal, arbitrators, officers or courts from requiring the payment of temporary pandemic pay to employees who are not eligible under the government's guidelines.³⁵¹

C. Price Control Measures

On March 24, 2020, an order was issued impacting consumer electricity prices.³⁵² Normally under the Ontario Energy Boards *Standard Supply Service Code*³⁵³ consumers pay a differential rate per kilowatt hour depending on the time of day. This is meant to encourage consumers to reduce electricity consumption during peak demand periods. Under the March 23rd order, consumers initially paid 10.1 cents/kWh – the rate normally applicable for off-peak consumption – regardless of what time of day it is consumed.³⁵⁴ On May 29, 2020, the order was amended.³⁵⁵ Starting on June 1, 2020, the applicable rate increased to 12.8 cents/kWh based on projected average supply costs under an October 2019 price report issued by the Ontario Energy Board.³⁵⁶

On May 1, 2020, a further order was issued targeting small industrial and commercial electricity consumers.³⁵⁷ Electricity pricing in Ontario includes an element known as “global adjustment”, which varies month by month based in part on changes to wholesale market electricity prices. Generally speaking, when wholesale prices drop, the global adjustment increases.³⁵⁸ Due to decreased demand for electricity during the COVID pandemic, the global adjustment was set to increase by approximately 15%. Under the emergency order, the amount of the global adjustment was capped at a set amount.³⁵⁹ An amendment to this order issued on May 29³⁶⁰ resulted in the expiry of the order on May 31, 2020.³⁶¹

On March 27, 2020, in response to media reports that some retailers were charging high prices for that were in-demand as a result of COVID, an order was issued to prohibit price gouging.³⁶² The order bans the charging of “unconscionable” prices on “necessary goods”, which includes masks and gloves, non-prescription medications for the treatment of COVID-19 symptoms, disinfectants, and personal hygiene products.³⁶³ An unconscionable price “includes” a price that grossly exceeds the price at which similar goods are available to like consumers.³⁶⁴

This ban on unconscionable prices applies to persons who own or operate a retail business or who did not ordinarily deal in necessary goods prior to the declared emergency (i.e. individuals who bought products and subsequently have attempted to re-sell them online at inflated prices). It does not apply to manufacturers, distributors or wholesalers.³⁶⁵

In early April, reports emerged that some child care providers continued to require parents to pay child care fees even though the providers had been shut down by emergency order and were not providing services. In response, an order was issued on April 9, 2020, prohibiting child care providers from charging fees unless (1) they were lawfully able to operate under the essential business order; and (2) were in fact operating.³⁶⁶ The order also banned providers from penalizing any person who did not pay fees when the provider re-opens.³⁶⁷ On May 8, 2020, the prohibition was expanded to also include bar penalties from being applied to parents who pull their children out of child care providers who are permitted to continue to operate.³⁶⁸ This order expired on June 12, 2020, which coincided with the expiry of the Closure of Establishments order that originally shut down child care facilities.³⁶⁹

D. Personal Health Information Sharing

On April 3, 2020, an order was issued that requires licensed laboratories and medical officers of health to disclose “COVID-19 status information” on request to several kinds of first responders, as well as potentially to the Ministry of Health.³⁷⁰ Police, firefighters, paramedics and 911 operators may require labs and medical officers of health to provide them with the name, address, date of birth of an individual, along with whether that person has tested positive for COVID-19.³⁷¹ The order also authorizes the Ministry of Health to establish a system of collection and disclosure of information for use by first responders.³⁷² But-for this order, this type of information would be subject to the collection and disclosure rules in statutes such as the Municipal Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act and the Personal Health Information Protection Act.

On May 1, 2020, Cabinet issued an order granting medical officers of health and Coroners direct access to the electronic health records of individuals in certain circumstances.³⁷³ Currently, Ontario Health is authorized to maintain electronic records of personal health information subject to a number of regulatory rules. When these rules are met, the persons who provide the personal health information that goes into the electronic records are deemed not to be disclosing the information to Ontario Health for the purposes of the Personal Health Information Protection Act and Ontario Health is deemed not to be collecting it.³⁷⁴

Under the order, both medical officers of health and coroners (or nurses appointed by a coroner to exercise their investigative powers and duties) are allowed to directly access health information from an electronic health record when the following conditions are met:

- The health information custodian who provide the personal health information to Ontario Health would be authorized or required to disclose that information directly to the medical officer or Coroner had those officials requested it;
- The medical officer of health or Coroner would have been entitled authorized to collect the personal health information if they requested it directly from the custodian;
- The medical officer of health or coroner requires the personal health information for any purpose related to their powers or duties under the Health Protection and Promotion Act or the Coroners Act, respectively; and
- In the case of coroners, the Chief Coroner has authorized coroner to use the electronic health record to collect personal health information.³⁷⁵

³⁷⁵ O.Reg. 190/20, Sched. 1, ss. 2-3.

When these conditions are met, Ontario Health is authorized to make personal health information available, even where Ontario Health “does not have custody or control of the personal health information”.³⁷⁶ There is no obligation in the order for the person accessing the electronic health record to notify either the individual to whom the record relates or the custodian who provided the information to Ontario Health of the access.

E. Other Emergency Orders

As of March 31, 2020, police officers and provincial offences officers have the right to require any person who they believe on reasonable grounds has violated an order under the EMCPA to provide their correct name, date of birth or address.³⁷⁷ A failure to do so is itself an offence under the EMCPA and subject to the penalties discussed in this memo.

On March 23, 2020, an order was issued providing the service of documents on the government of Ontario – other than in criminal matters – must be done by electronic means as set out in the order.³⁷⁸

On April 7, 2020, an order was issued relieving against certain requirements for witnesses to be physically present for the making of a will or a power of attorney. Under the order, witnessing these documents may be done by way of videoconferencing technology, as long as at least one witness is an Ontario lawyer.³⁷⁹ The process for doing this was clarified in an April 23rd order.³⁸⁰

On April 9, 2020, the government issued an order – retroactive to March 17 – to facilitate the construction of temporary health and residential facilities.³⁸¹ The overall effect of the order is that hospitals and governments (including municipalities) may construct, extend, alter or repair a building for the purpose of providing health care or sleeping accommodation on a temporary basis in response to the COVID-19 pandemic³⁸² without complying with certain legal requirements. In particular, they are not required to obtain building permits, comply with the Building Code, adhere to zoning bylaws or official plans of a municipality.³⁸³

The order imposes some safety requirements on the construction of these temporary facilities. This includes the requirement for facilities to be subjected to safety inspections by building inspectors,³⁸⁴ as well as a requirement for those buildings that were not yet occupied by April 9th to have plans prepared by architects and engineers and reviewed by building officials prior to opening.³⁸⁵

On May 1, 2020, an emergency order was issued related to who may complete a medical certificate of death.³⁸⁶ While a coroner is authorized to appoint a registered nurse to discharge the investigative powers and duties of a coroner³⁸⁷ only the coroner themselves is normally allowed to issue a death certificate.³⁸⁸ The emergency order authorized a registered nurse who has been appointed by a coroner to exercise their investigative powers and duties to issue a death certificate.³⁸⁹

F. Orders Granting Relief from Legislation

Four orders have been issued granting relief from compliance with provisions of Ontario law. Two relate to limitations periods in legal proceedings, one third modifies the rules related to various types of corporate meetings, and a fourth exempts certain payments from Ontario's pre-existing wage-restraint legislation.

Limitations Periods

On March 20, 2020, Cabinet invoked its power under this provision to suspend all limitation periods retroactive to March 16, 2020.³⁹⁰ This effect of this order is essentially to “freeze” all such periods as they stood as of March 15, 2020. When the order expires, all limitation periods and periods of time in which to take steps in proceedings will continue where they were as of that date. They do not ‘reset’ as a result of the order.³⁹¹

The order also suspended periods of time to take steps in any proceeding, including intended proceedings, that exist under any statute, regulation, rule, by-law or order of the Government of Ontario, “subject to the discretion of the court, tribunal or other decision-maker responsible for the proceeding”. This portion of the order was also made retroactive to March 16, 2020.³⁹² This power may be exercised by the chair of a tribunal or each of the three Chief Justices for matters related to the body they superintend, as well as by individual persons with jurisdiction over individual proceedings.³⁹³ A minor amendment was made to this order on May 1 to clarify that it applied to certain by-laws made by hospital boards related to staff credentialing and privileges.³⁹⁴

As of June 5, 2020, both of these suspension orders are set to expire on September 11, 2020.³⁹⁵

³⁹⁵ Order Made under the Act – Extension and Renewals of Orders, O.Reg. 106/20, Sched. 2, s. 1.

On April 9, 2020, two narrow carve-outs were made to these broad orders. First, as of April 9th, the suspension was lifted for periods for proceedings or intended proceedings set out in the *Niagara Escarpment and Development Act*³⁹⁶ or its regulations.³⁹⁷ Second, as of April 16, the suspension was lifted for periods for proceedings or intended proceedings set out in the *Construction Act*³⁹⁸ or its regulations.³⁹⁹ A further carve out was implemented on June 5, 2020,⁴⁰⁰ which provides that, as of June 8th, limitation periods and time periods in which to take a step in a proceeding under Part V of the Family Responsibility and Support Arrears Enforcement Act, 1996 once again apply.⁴⁰¹

Some courts and tribunals also exercised their discretion not to suspend time periods under their applicable statutes and rules. The Ontario Labour Relations Board announced on March 23, 2020, that it would not be suspending any time periods. Instead, it announced that for certification, termination and displacement applications, no votes would be held for workplaces that were not continuing to operate and carry on business. Similarly, for grievance referrals in the construction industry, the Board indicated that no default decisions would be issued until the applicant confirms with the Board that the employer continues to operate and carry on business.⁴⁰²

The Ontario Court of Justice has also indicated that it will continue to adhere to statutory timelines for urgent family matters, including urgent custody/access motions, motions for restraining orders, Hague Convention applications, and various urgent matters under the Child, Youth and Family Services Act.⁴⁰³

Special Rules for Various Corporations

Throughout the declared emergency, special rules were developed to make various aspects of holding corporate meetings easier, including measures to avoid the need to have large, face to face meetings. While several different instruments were used to make these changes, all have operated retroactively to March 17, 2020. Thus, while the timing and means of these changes may be complex, all of the rules described below have – as a matter of law – been in place since the start of the emergency.

On March 30, Cabinet issued an order modifying requirements under the *Corporations Act*⁴⁰⁴ and the *Business Corporations Act*⁴⁰⁵ related to the holding of certain types of required meetings.⁴⁰⁶ On April 24, 2020, the order was expanded⁴⁰⁷ to also cover corporations governed by the *Co-operative Corporations Act*⁴⁰⁸ and the Condominium Act.⁴⁰⁹ All aspects of the order were made retroactive to March 17, 2020.

On May 12, 2020, the Legislature convened and passed the COVID019 Response and Reforms to Modernize Ontario Act, 2020.⁴¹⁰ The legislation contained numerous measures to modernize mostly business-related statutes, frequently permitting new forms of electronic or virtual activities. The legislation contained provisions that replicate the provisions of the emergency orders with respect to corporations, business corporations, co-operative corporations and condo corporations. At the same time, it retroactively repeals the order. The overall effect of the legislation is to transplant the rules earlier found in the order under the EMCPA into temporary provisions of the relevant statutes themselves. The provisions are now set to continue for 120 days past the end of the COVID state of emergency, though this period may be extended by regulation.⁴¹¹

The changes – as they existed when they were reflected in a relief order under the EMCPA are discussed below. Readers should consult the amendments to the respective statutes going forward.

Corporations

- An annual meeting of an Insurance Corporation governed by Part V of the Corporations Act may occur within 90 days of the termination of the COVID-19 emergency.⁴¹² These meetings must normally take place within the first three months of a calendar year;⁴¹³
- For other corporations under the Corporations Act, an annual meeting must normally be held within 18 months of its initial incorporation, and thereafter within 15 months of their last annual meeting.⁴¹⁴ Where these timelines would require an annual meeting during the COVID-19 emergency, the meeting may now be held within 90 days of the termination of the emergency; where the normal timelines would require an annual meeting within 30 days of the termination of the COVID-19 emergency, the meeting may now be held within 120 days of the end of the emergency;⁴¹⁵

Relief from Wage Restraint

On May 1, 2020, an order was issued exempting certain payments from the application of public sector wage restraint legislation that was enacted in 2019.⁴⁶² Under the provisions of the Protecting a Sustainable Public Sector for Future Generations Act, 2019, a number of broader public sector workers were subject to three-year “restraint periods” during which annual increases to their salaries and wages were capped at 1%.⁴⁶³ This exemption order provides that certain “COVID-19 related payments” do not count against these caps.

To be exempt, the payment must be temporary, related to COVID-19, and relate to work in one of a number of listed workplaces (e.g. hospitals, long-term care homes, retirement homes, homeless shelters, supportive housing residences, correctional institutions, children’s aid societies) or in respect of certain kinds of work (e.g. outreach services for the homeless, paramedic work, homemaking and nursing services, etc.).⁴⁶⁴

These exemptions appear designed to cover the announced temporary pay increase for various front-line service workers announced by the provincial government in late April⁴⁶⁵ and formalized in May.⁴⁶⁶

What the EMCPA means for Workers & Trade Unions

What started with a single emergency order permitting hospitals to override collective agreement provisions has ballooned into authorization to override collective bargaining in several sectors in Ontario: long-term care home operators, retirement home operators, service providers for persons with a developmental disability; waste and water systems operators, boards of health, the Ministry of Transportation, and violence against women service providers also may override certain collective agreement provisions and can suspend the ability of unions to file grievances.

Earlier versions of this memo predicted the risk that further orders could be made with respect to other sectors. While Ontario has not gone as far as Quebec has under section 123 of the *Public Health Act*⁴⁶⁷ (targeting collective agreements on in the public service generally, as well as the education sector)⁴⁶⁸ it has come very close to doing so. Significant swaths of public service providers – including now many municipalities – are exempted from compliance with collective agreement terms.

Ontario has also started to directly interfere with collective agreement provisions. The order banning long-term care home and retirement home workers from working at other health service provider or retirement home locations specifically permits collective agreement provisions to be overturned. While some effort has been made to protect worker's jobs after the pandemic has ended, the order may have significant consequences for these worker's incomes. Given the already low-wages paid to many such workers (not to mention the extraordinary circumstances that they are required to work under during the pandemic) this result is cannot be ignored.

On the other hand, the government has occasionally taken a more collaborative approach. In particular, the education sector order – despite some aspects that could still interfere with rights under a collective agreement – was based on a system of consultation and collaboration with affected trade unions.

Orders made by the government are, of course, subject to the limits set out in the Charter of Rights and Freedoms. However, even if an order were found to infringe on Charter rights, including freedom of association, section 1 of the Charter allows governments to justify a limitation on Charter rights. In our view, the existence of the COVID-19 pandemic would very likely be considered by the courts to be a very significant factor in support of finding any Charter violation to be a justified and reasonable limit under s. 1. Thus, even if it were possible to obtain a court hearing in an expedited manner to challenge an emergency order for violating the Charter, a court could still uphold orders as reasonable limits, thus permitting them to stand.

For businesses that are required to close down due to emergency orders, unions should be mindful of any rights or entitlements members have in the event of lay-off or termination. Unlike the orders targeting the health, care home and water sectors, the shutdown orders do not purport to override any collective agreement terms.

Finally, unions that employ corporations to hold property or for other purposes should be aware of the additional flexibility that they now have for holding annual and director's meetings.

III. Federal Emergency Powers

The federal government has had emergency powers legislation since the early days of the First World War. The War Measures Act was famously invoked with respect to both world wars, as well as during the October Crisis of 1970. Its successor, the Emergencies Act,⁴⁶⁹ grants the Federal Cabinet sweeping powers to deal with four distinct types of emergencies. Part I of the Act, “Public Welfare Emergencies”, addresses emergencies arising from inter alia diseases.

Declaring Emergencies

The federal Cabinet may declare a public welfare emergency where it believes on reasonable grounds that there is an emergency that

- is caused by a real or imminent disease in human beings, animals or plants;
- results or may result in a danger to life or property, social disruption, or a breakdown in the flow of essential goods, services or resources;
- constitutes an urgent and critical situation of a temporary nature that is of such proportions or nature as to exceed the capacity or authority of a province to deal with it, or seriously threatens the ability of the Government of Canada to preserve the sovereignty, security and territorial integrity of Canada; and
- cannot be effectively dealt with under any other law of Canada.⁴⁷⁰

Before doing so, federal Cabinet must consult with the cabinets of each province where the effects of the emergency are felt with respect to the proposed declaration.⁴⁷¹ Where the effects of a public welfare emergency are confined to, or occur principally in a single province, Cabinet may not make a declaration unless the Province indicates that the emergency exceeds its capacity or authority to deal with it.⁴⁷²

A declaration of emergency takes effect at the time it is made.⁴⁷³ However, within 7 days of an emergency being declared, a minister of the Crown must table a motion to confirm the declaration of emergency before both houses of Parliament. The motion must be accompanied by an explanation for the reasons for the declaration, and a report on the consultations with provincial cabinets.⁴⁷⁴ Each house must, on the next sitting day, consider the motion, debating it without interruption until it is voted upon.⁴⁷⁵

⁴⁷⁵ EA, ss. 58(5)-(6).

If the motion to confirm is rejected by either the House of Commons or the Senate, the declaration of emergency is revoked as of that day.⁴⁷⁶

If, after making a declaration that applies to only part of Canada, Cabinet concludes that the emergency has extended to any new part, it may amend the declaration to cover the new area. Prior to doing so, Cabinet must consult with all Provincial Cabinets, whether or not they previously fell within the scope of the declaration.⁴⁷⁷ An amendment to the scope of declaration is subject to the same requirement to be confirmed by both houses of Parliament as an initial declaration.⁴⁷⁸

A federal declaration has not yet been made. However, the Prime Minister – when questioned about the possibility of invoking the Emergencies Act – has referenced the fact that he has been in regular communication with the provinces. This appears to be a reference to the Cabinet consultations the Act requires before a public welfare emergency may be declared. As such, the federal government is at least keeping open the option of declaring an emergency.

Emergency Orders & Regulations

While a declaration of a public welfare emergency remains in effect, Cabinet may make orders or regulations with respect to the following matters that it believes on reasonable grounds are necessary to deal with the emergency:

1. Regulating or prohibiting travel to, from or within any specified area when necessary for the protection of the health or safety of individuals;
2. Evacuating persons or removing property from specified areas, and making arrangements for their adequate care;
3. Requisitioning, using or disposing of property;
4. Authorizing or directing persons or classes of persons to render essential services of a type that the person(s) is/are competent to provide, and to provide for reasonable compensation in respect of such services;
5. Regulating the distribution and availability of essential goods, services and resources;
6. Authorizing the making of emergency payments;
7. Establishing emergency shelters and hospitals;

⁴⁷⁶ EA, s. 58(7).

⁴⁷⁷ EA, s. 13(1).

⁴⁷⁸ EA, s. 13(2).

8. Providing for the assessment of damage to any work or undertaking, and the repair, replacement or restoration thereof;
9. Providing for the assessment of damage to the environment and eliminating or alleviating that damage;
10. The imposition of sentences for the contravention of other emergency orders and regulations, with maximum penalties of up to 5 years imprisonment.⁴⁷⁹

Regulations and orders – and any power, duty or function conferred or imposed pursuant to them – must be exercised in a manner that does not unduly impair the ability of a Province to take measures to deal with the emergency. Further, the power must be used with the view of achieving, to the extent possible, concerted action with each province in which the power is exercised.⁴⁸⁰

The Emergencies Act imposes more specific limits on Cabinet’s power to make regulations and orders.

First, no order or regulation may usurp provincial or municipal control over police forces that such governments normally have authority over.⁴⁸¹

Second, the power to make emergency orders and regulations, or any power exercised pursuant to such an order or regulation, shall not be exercised for the purpose of terminating a strike or lock-out or imposing a settlement in a labour dispute.⁴⁸²

Parliamentary Oversight During Emergencies

When an emergency is declared, a joint committee of Parliament must be established to review the exercise of powers and the performance of duties and functions pursuant to that declaration.⁴⁸³ This Parliamentary Review Committee is required to sit in private, and its members are subject to an oath of secrecy.⁴⁸⁴

All emergency orders and regulations are subject to review by Parliament. Within two days of being made, every order and regulation must be tabled before each house of Parliament or, in certain cases, before a special Parliamentary Review Committee.⁴⁸⁵ It is required to report to Parliament at least every sixty days, and also following the taking of certain actions related to the revocation or continuation of an emergency.⁴⁸⁶

⁴⁸⁵ EA, ss. 61(1)-(2).

⁴⁸⁶ EA, s. 62(6).

Duration of Declarations, Regulations and Orders

The declaration of a public welfare emergency lasts for 90 days by default,⁴⁸⁷ though it automatically terminates if the Parliamentary motion for confirmation fails.⁴⁸⁸ Cabinet may also revoke a declaration any time. This may be with respect to the declaration as a whole, or with respect to any specified area of Canada.⁴⁸⁹

The House of Commons or the Senate also has the power to revoke a declaration of emergency, either in whole or with respect to a specified area of Canada.⁴⁹⁰ If at least ten Senators or twenty Members of Parliament file a motion to revoke the declaration with the Speaker of their respective house, that house must consider it within 3 days.⁴⁹¹ If the motion is passed, the declaration is revoked as of the date of the vote.⁴⁹²

Cabinet also has the power to continue a declaration of emergency for an unlimited number of additional 90-day periods.⁴⁹³ The Federal Cabinet is required to consult with provincial Cabinets prior to each extension, in the same manner as when an initial declaration is made.⁴⁹⁴ A continuation is subject to the same requirement to have Parliamentary confirmation as the initial declaration.⁴⁹⁵

The Federal Cabinet is also required to conduct a review of all orders and regulations made pursuant to the declared emergency prior to each continuation. If Cabinet concludes that they no longer have reasonable grounds to believe any such order or regulation is necessary to deal with the emergency, they must be revoked or amended to the extent that they are no longer necessary.⁴⁹⁶

While the Emergencies Act does not expressly say so, Cabinet's power to make regulations and orders during a declared emergency extends to the power to amend or revoke such orders and regulations.

Regulations and orders are also automatically revoked when the underlying declaration of emergency is also revoked, whether due to expiry, early termination by Cabinet, a successful motion to revoke in Parliament, or the failure to pass a motion to confirm.⁴⁹⁷

Inquiry Following End of Emergency

After the end of a declaration of an emergency, Cabinet is required to cause an inquiry to be held into the circumstances that led to the declaration being issued and the measures taken for dealing with the emergency.⁴⁹⁸ The Emergencies Act does not set out the process by which such an inquiry is to be conducted, other than requiring that a report of the inquiry be made and laid before each house of Parliament within 360 days of the end of the emergency.⁴⁹⁹

Liability and Compensation

The Emergencies Act relieves individuals – including Ministers of the Crown, Crown servants, or persons providing services pursuant to an emergency regulation or order – from liability for good faith acts or omissions done or purported to be done pursuant to a declaration of emergency. Crown liability, however is preserved.⁵⁰⁰

The Act establishes a specialized administrative compensation scheme. Persons who suffer loss, injury or damage as a result of anything done or purported to be done pursuant to a declaration of emergency has a right to reasonable compensation.⁵⁰¹ To obtain such compensation, a person is required to sign a full release.⁵⁰²

Where a person applies for compensation and is not satisfied with the government’s decision, they may appeal to an “Assessor” within three months.⁵⁰³ Assessors are to be judges of the Federal Court.⁵⁰⁴ Assessors may confirm the government’s compensation decision, refer the matter back for further action, or may vary the government’s decision itself. Notably, if the Assessor decides to set an amount of compensation herself, they may award more than the maximum that may be established under a regulation under the Act governing the compensation scheme.⁵⁰⁵

What the Emergencies Act Means for Trade Unions

The Emergencies Act’s specific prohibition against using emergency powers for the purpose of terminating a strike or lock-out or imposing a settlement in a labour dispute⁵⁰⁶ is certainly welcome.

⁵⁰⁴ EA, s. 50.

⁵⁰⁵ EA, s. 52.

However, there are many other ways in which the powers could be exercised in a way that impacts trade unions and their members. Notably, the power to direct persons to provide essential services, set the rates of remuneration for such services, and regulating the distribution of goods and services⁵⁰⁷ could significantly impact the provisions of collective agreements. While such interference would be subject to s. 2(d) of the Charter, the existence of an emergency would weigh heavily in any s. 1 justification analysis.
